Halsey Makes Navy Day Speech

Says Conquest Of Japan Was Initially Navy Show But Victory Came By Teamwork

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27.—(INS.)—Admiral William F. Halsey, Sr., said today that the conquest of Japan was initially a Navy show but that complete victory was achieved by the teamwork displayed by the thousands on the home front and on the battle lines.

In a Navy Day address the commander of the Third Fleet listed seven "tools" which shaped America's destiny in the war with Japan.

1. A profound conviction that the home front would not fail, that the materials needed would be forthcoming.

2. Acquisition of the world's best weapons once this production started rolling.

3. Amazingly fast development of trained manpower.

4. The inherent ability of Americans to weld men and machines into an integral, unbeatable combination.

5. A plan for the inevitable offensive which was at once flexible, imaginative and inexorable in its end results.

6. The American ability to improve in times of great stress and temporary shortages.

7. Providing spearhead forces with quickly-built bases and mobile supply trains.

"Now that is over," he said, "I pray that we shall not gamble away all we've gained by any hasty, ill-considered decisions."

By the planners for America's future.

"I feel that the tremendous advantage we hold in ships and men cannot justly be nullified now without betraying those men who fought and gave their lives that America might be strong."

U. S. WILL SUPPORT LASTING PEACE, BY FORCE, IF NECESSARY

of selfish advantage. We have no plans for aggression against any other state, large or small. We have no objective which need clash with the peaceful aims of any other nation.

"2. We believe in the eventual return of sovereign rights and self-government to all peoples who have been deprived of them by force."

"3. We shall approve no territorial changes in any friendly part of the world unless they accord with the freely expressed wishes of the people concerned."

"4. We believe that all peoples who are prepared for self-government should be permitted to choose their own form of government by their own freely expressed choice, without interference from any foreign source. This is true in Europe, in Asia, in Africa, as well as in the Western Hemisphere."

"5. By the combined and cooperative action of our war allies, we shall help the defeated enemy states establish peaceful democratic governments of their own free choice. And we shall try to attain a world in which Nazism, Fascism, and military aggression cannot exist."

"6. We shall refuse to recognize any government imposed upon any nation by the force of any foreign power. In some cases it may be impossible to prevent forcible imposition of such a government. But the United States will not recognize any such government."

"7. We believe that all nations should have the freedom of the seas and equal rights to the navigation of boundary rivers and waterways and of rivers and waterways which pass through more than one country."

"8. We believe that all states which are accepted in the society of nations should have access on equal terms to the trade and raw materials of the world."

"9. We believe that the sovereign states of the Western Hemisphere, without interference from outside the Western Hemisphere, must work together as good neighbors in the solution of their common problems."

"10. We believe that full economic collaboration between all nations, great and small, is essential to the improvement of living conditions all over the world, and the establishment of freedom from fear and freedom from want."

"11. We shall continue to strive to promote freedom of expression and freedom of religion throughout the peace-loving areas of the world."

"12. We are convinced that the preservation of peace between nations requires a United Nations organization composed of all the peace-loving nations of the world who are willing jointly to use force if necessary to insure peace."

Mr. Truman said "when our demobilization is all finished as planned, the United States will still be the greatest naval power on earth."

The president added:

"In addition to that naval power, we shall still have one of the most powerful air forces in the world."

Asks Universal Training

"And just the other day so that on short notice we could mobilize a powerful and well-equipped land and air force, I asked congress to adopt universal training."

Mr. Truman said that "outside of the right to establish necessary bases for our own protection, we look for nothing which belongs to any other power."

"We have assured the world time and again—and I repeat it now—that we do not seek for ourselves one inch of territory in any place in the world."

"We do need this kind of armed might, however, and for four principal reasons:

Why Might Is Needed

"First, our army, navy and air force, in collaboration with our allies, must enforce the terms of peace imposed upon our defeated enemies."

"Second, we must fulfill the military obligations which we are undertaking as a member of the United Nations organization—to support a lasting peace, by force if necessary."

"Third, we must cooperate with other American nations to preserve the territorial integrity and the political independence of the nations of the western hemisphere."

"Fourth, in this troubled and uncertain world, our military forces must be adequate to discharge the fundamental mission laid down upon them by the constitution of the United States—to provide for the common defense of the United States."

Directed Toward Peace

Then the president said:

"These four military tasks are directed not toward war—not toward conquest—but toward peace."

The people in the United States, in Russia, and Britain, in France and China in collaboration with all other peace-loving people must take a course of current history into their own hands and mould it in a new direction—the direction of continued cooperation."

"It was a common danger that united us before victory. Let it be a common hope which continues to draw us together in the years to come."

Differences of the kind that exist today among the nations that fought together so long and so valiantly for victory are not hopeless or irreconcilable."

"There are no conflicts of interest among the victorious powers so deeply that they can not be resolved."

The president asserted that in our possession of other new weapons, there is no threat to any other nation."

He declared that the highest hope of this nation is that world cooperation for peace will "soon reach such a state of perfection that atomic methods of destruction can be definitely and effectively outlawed forever."

Woman 'Veteran' Of 37 Years With Pennsy To Retire

Mrs. Elizabeth Queer Serves As Switchboard Operator With E. & A. Since 1908

Employed as a switchboard operator for the E. and A. Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad since November 1, 1908, Mrs. Elizabeth Queer, of 412 Park avenue, is retiring on November 1, 1945, after 37 years of service with the company.

Mrs. Queer took the job 37 months after her husband, an assistant trainmaster with the Pennsylvania Railroad, died, leaving her with two little girls to support.

Both daughters are now working in New York. Miss Helen Queer, a teacher of music and Mrs. J. William Liddle being affiliated with a cleaning company. After her retirement, Mrs. Queer plans to spend part of the year in New York with her daughters.

Mrs. Queer began work in the same building, in fact in the same room, in which she is still working. Only one switchboard was needed then, instead of two as now, and one operator was not as busy as two are now. The building which was once an old hotel, has been remodeled several times but is essentially the same. Trying to recall what she wore to work the first day, Mrs. Queer reflected that hoop skirts were in style about that time.

"I don't think I wore hoop skirts to work," she said. "A lot of things have changed but many of the people who were here when I started are still here," she says. "I miss them, but it will be nice to be free to travel."

STEELWORKERS TO PLAN STRIKE VOTE

Murray said the petition would be in the hands of the governmental agencies "not later than Monday."

He said the strike vote would reflect not only the basic steel industry but also steel fabricating, iron ore mining and the aluminum industries.

At least 800 Companies

The USWA president said the original petition would carry the names of at least 800 companies employing over 700,000 workers who will be eligible to vote.

Murray emphasized the union's original petition. He said eventually the strike vote would be a virtual census of the entire steel industry with the entire membership of the union, which is 97,000, voting. It would be the largest strike vote ever handled by the government.

PRESIDENT SENDS STALIN MESSAGE

ment it was recalled, however, that Mr. Truman told a recent news conference he had been corresponding with Stalin at intervals since the Potsdam conference.

Assistant Secretary of State James C. Dunn, deputy for Secretary of State James B. Byrnes, was flying early next month from London. He will report personally on developments and it was believed that his visit may pave the way for a new meeting by the "Big Four" foreign ministers.

Since the original meeting, which broke up largely because of inability to agree on Balkan questions and the Italian territories, normal developments have worked in the direction of agreement. The progress has been slow but the State department believes that there are better chances of democratic elections and a free press in the Balkans than there were before.

Hopes Russia Will Join Parley

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(INS.)—Dr. H. V. Ewart, Australian foreign minister, expressed the hope today that Russia will ultimately join the Far Eastern Advisory Commission which is to meet Tuesday in Washington.

"It is an expression of democratic processes in handling international affairs and marks a very important step forward," Ewart said.

"It is the getting together of the powers that have been fighting Japan. They are all entitled to a voice in matter affecting Japan."

The question is whether we make it a success and it's up to us to do so.

It should be as representative as possible and I am hopeful that Russia will join in as soon as possible.

Ewart said he would have no objections to India, being given a voice any more than he had against the Philippines since both had contributed substantially to the defeat of the enemy.

Britain has proposed that India be given a vote on the commission.

War has brought some pretty grim sights to a doughboy's eyes. But some of the worst have not been in battle. And the doughboy knows that his fight for peace is not won — while there are everywhere hunger and disease and desperation. He knows that our government is doing everything possible to send food and other supplies to those who stood with us in the war. But there is much that governments cannot do. That's why the allied relief societies — which your money supports through your Community War Fund — are so important.

You give only once a year to all the great causes combined in your Community Chest, which, in turn, supports all the 21 agencies of the National War Fund. This year, make your gift bigger than ever before.

Second Flight Non-Stop From Japan Delayed

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(INS)—The War Department announced today that a projected B-29 flight from Japan to Washington, D. C., in a second effort to complete a non-stop trip has been delayed by weather conditions.

An Army Air Force spokesman said that no details were available on the flight other than a cable from A. F. headquarters in Tokyo that the trip will be delayed "two or three days."

Weather conditions forced three planes to land in Chicago in the first attempt to fly non-stop to Washington from Tokyo.

do. It seems to me that such a program would go far to further understanding among children.

Sunday School
Often I have wondered why Gentile children at Sunday school and church are not made familiar with the religious observances of Jewish families living in their midst. Are not about half their Sunday school lessons based on the Old Testament? Why not tie up these lessons with some facts of today?

Certainly in the home, all parents who believe in bringing up their children to be considerate and appreciative of the feelings of other persons and, therefore, to be appreciative of the ways, customs and religion of other people, should think seriously on these matters now, and cultivate by precept and example an attitude of tolerance.

Religious Tolerance
Now the large majority of professing Christians in the United States are either Catholic or Protestant, calling themselves Christians. It has always seemed to me that understanding and consideration of all other persons and groups of persons and what is precious to them, lies at the very root of the teachings of Jesus.

HEATER PIPES

Along about this time of the year people begin to get the heating system ready for winter.

Hot air heaters use a system of pipes to distribute the heated air to the various rooms.

When these heater pipes are examined it is sometimes found that they have been used for cupboards, waste baskets, dust pans and catch alls.

When the furnace is fired up and the pipes are opened this dirt and dust is carried into the air.

It would be wise to keep these pipes closed when not in use and be sure that they are kept clean always.

It does not seem very sensible for us to insist that mines, mills and factories provide pure air and then have the workers go home and breathe impure air for the other 16 hours of the day.

Old Home Week
When the coal strike conference assembled in Washington, it was like "Old Home Week" for Labor Secretary Schweilenbach and Edward R. Burke, president of the Southern Coal Producers' association.

Schweilenbach and Burke served in the Senate together a few years back. They and their wives were the best of friends, but on the floor the two men exhibited antagonistic views and frequently tore into each other.

In the coal party, they were up to their old stumps.

For the first time in 12 long years the big gray Department of Labor building in Washington has become a haven of activity. The faces of union leaders are seen

Community Chest and War Relief Fund

Activities Bring 700 To Elm Street Y.W.C.A.

Another of the group of local agencies which share in the local Community Chest is the Elm Street branch of the Y.W.C.A., now in its twenty-sixth year of service to the colored women and girls of New Castle.

During the preparation for the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the branch last year many repairs and renovations were made and this summer some others were made which put the building in fairly good condition. The building is adequate for holding regular club and committee meetings, small membership meetings and parties, but larger meetings, skating, bowling and other gym work are done in the central Y.W.C.A. building.

Branch Committee
The program of the Y.W.C.A. is coordinated by the educational equipment of its leadership and membership as well as its facilities. The management of the branch is vested in a committee of eleven women known as the branch committee. All activities are under the direction of these women and their committees thus offering a real opportunity for leadership development. The branch structure is needed only as it provides an opportunity for service on a broader base than is possible when only a few individuals are considered. The many varied types of women and girls who enter the branch reflect the needs, problems, aspirations and contributions to American life of the Negro. The branch is a "way in" not a "wall to keep people out" of the main stream of association life.

The Y.W.C.A. achieves its purpose through its program. Three "corner" clubs, the two adult clubs, and the standing committees strive to plan and carry on activities which will interest and develop its members. Some of the activities engaged in are dramatics, arts and crafts, literary programs, book reviews, music and various types of recreation. Inter-club inter-committee, and all-association activities are successfully carried on throughout the year, thus proving that all people regardless of race, creed or national origin can live, work and play together in an association, a community, a country and a world.

Rabbi Julian Shapo Dies In New York

Former Rabbi Of Tifereth Israel Synagogue, This City, Taken By Death

Rabbi Julian Shapo, who officiated in the pulpits of various Jewish congregations in the Eastern United States, and former spiritual leader of Tifereth Israel synagogue, this city, died Sunday night, October 21, at Montefiore hospital in New York City, at the age of 63.

His forty-three years in the rabbinate included pulpits in Portland, Oregon; Tampa, Florida; Uniontown, Pennsylvania; Newport, Rhode Island; Knoxville, Tennessee; Miami, Florida; New Castle, Pennsylvania; and New York City.

Ill health during the last few years forced him to curtail his activities and for the last year he had retired from active participation in congregational affairs.

Known also as a cantor, Rabbi Shapo had studied music with some of the celebrated teachers at the Royal Conservatory in Pelsingstr, Finland and at the Frankfurt Conservatory in Germany.

Ordained in 1902, he came to the United States and began his career as a rabbi. As a thirty-second degree Mason he was called upon frequently to confer degrees, particularly the eighteenth in the jurisdiction of Florida Consistory No. 2.

On September 3, 1945, Rabbi and Mrs. Shapo celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary.

He is survived by his wife, Mary, and by his children, Lt. Colonel Dalton J. Shapo, of New York, Mitchell Shapo of Miami, Fla., Mrs. Florence S. Skole, New Castle, Mrs. Myrtle S. Ledman, and Selma Shapo of New York.

Funeral services for Rabbi Shapo were conducted Tuesday afternoon in the Washington Heights Temple, Brookline, N. Y., with Rabbi Avery Grossfield, former rabbi of Temple Israel, this city, officiating. Interment was in the Montefiore cemetery, N. Y.

Among those attending the funeral services were Dr. and Mrs. S. Skole, of 121 East Garfield avenue, this city.

CONTRACT AWARDED
After considerable bickering by some of the bidders with the county commissioners, the contract for the equipment and cards necessary for the new card index system of filing property records, the commissioners awarded the contract to the Castle Stationery Company of New Castle at its bid of $7820.90. This was $1.60 lower than the combined low bids of other competitors.

The combined low bids were Acme Visible Records Company, $6736.50 for the equipment and Miller, Pyle and Street, $1086 for the cards.

The controversy arose over the wording of the bid and a question as to whether the tips on the card edges were part of the equipment or the cards. One bidder said he thought the commissioners were asking for bids on 60,000 cards.

Others bid on 50,000. The commissioners pointed out that the cases were to be large enough to hold 60,000 cards but only 50,000 were to be purchased. County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., ruled that the bid of the Castle Stationery Company was low and the award went to the local company.

Chicken Minus Head Still Eats

Chicken Who Lost Head Last Thursday Refuses To Die

ITHICA, N. Y., Oct. 27.—(INS)—A little red hen was very much alive at noon today after having its head chopped off 54 hours ago.

Vernon W. Bowman went out to the barn early Thursday morning to kill and dress three of his Rhode Island red hens. When he finished at the chopping block, he could find only two. One had pranced away and hidden in the bushes.

He has been feeding the hen through the covered tubes of the throat with milk through a medicine dropper.

Philip Levine, assistant professor of the college of veterinary medicine at Cornell University, says no reason why the hen will not survive in view of the nature of the cut at the base of the head's brain.

Deadline Looms For Conferees On Tax Measure

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(INS)—Senate and House conferees on the five billion, 700 million dollar tax reduction bill met in a special Saturday session today in their effort to beat the Nov. 1 deadline for completing the legislation.

The deadline was set by the House to enable the internal revenue bureau to prepare forms and instructions so the bill may become effective next Jan. 1.

With the measure already through both Houses of Congress, although conflicts exist, it appeared certain that the legislators will be able to finish their work in time.

Rep. Robert Doughton (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Ways and Means committee which drafted the original legislation, said he expected the joint conference to reconcile differences in the bills in "two or three days."

Truman Speaks At Commissioning Of Largest Carrier

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(INS)—President Truman called upon the American people today to bend the energies they devoted to war to development of better living standards at home and an era of peace for the whole world.

Mr. Truman advanced these twin goals in the formal commissioning of the Brooklyn Navy yard of the world's largest aircraft carrier, a 45,000-ton fighting ship named for the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

The president extolled the man he succeeded in one of two Navy Day addresses. The second was an important enunciation of America's foreign policy in the postwar world.

Confirm Death Of News Week Reporter

TOKYO, Oct. 27.—(INS)—A colleague of William T. Shenkel, Newsweek war correspondent, today confirmed the reporter's death in the first Superfort raid on the Japanese homeland June 16, 1944.

Shenkel had been listed as missing since his plane failed to return from the historic mission against Yawata on Kyushu, the only Superfortress unaccounted for after the raid.

Shenkel's death was confirmed by Harold Isaacs who went to Yawata and found the scene of the crash as well as pictures of the wreckage. Local evidence showed that all aboard the Superfort perished in flames.

Shenkel, 38, had been a New York and Washington newspaperman and was a veteran of North Africa, Italy and CBI theaters.

GIRL SCOUTS

Union Scouts Seek "Body"
Hunting for the body of "Spooky Speakeasy" who was reported to have been murdered, a large crowd of young people, members of Girl Scout Troop 12 and a number of boys which they invited, turned out for a party which began at Union High school and ended in the garage of Joyce Hennings' home in Union township Tuesday evening.

The searchers, divided into seven groups, were given badges of authority, and were assisted by five sheriffs. Six clues took the posse all over downtown New Castle and finally led to the remains of the "body" in a dark, narrow "alley" at the rear of the building.

Returning to the scene, the "body" was placed in a coffin and buried, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. John Hennings and Mrs. F. A. Vanatten. The party was under the supervision of Miss Patricia Taylor, troop leader, and her assistants Miss Frances Masters, Miss Betty Gibson, and Miss Angeline Castaldi.

Senior Troop Plans Party
Senior Girl Scouts of Troop 32 will attend a Halloween party this evening in the home of the leader, Mrs. Shuster, according to plans made at the troop meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Jeanne Wilson, 1000 S. 10th St.

Committees for the party are refreshments, Marilyn Miller, Jean Seiler and Betty Nelson; games, Marlene Sizer, Jean McQuinn and Jeanne Wilson; decorations, Donna Sheehy and Shirley West.

Comparing notes on foreign posts overseas, they agreed that dad is far less busy than his son. The navy finds few black-market operations which are a source in army post overseas.

True To Their Glorious Record Throughout Our Nation's History

The men who have served in our Navy since the nation's birth as the United States, have reflected glory on themselves in many wars, and in many years of peace. This day has been set aside to honor them—in memory, for those who've gone to their final sleep in the deep; and in a 21 gun salute for those now sailing the seas around the globe. In World War II they faced undaunted all the strength of powerful enemies, and have successfully piloted this nation to Victory. We have every reason to be proud of our great ships—proud of our great naval air force—and proud of every man wearing our navy's uniform.

BONDS WILL PAY THE BILL BUT NOT UNTIL THEY'RE SOLD

This is no time to be trying on Star Spangled halos for size. Sure the shooting is over, the Axis has been defeated, our lads finished their job on the battlefield. But our job here at home isn't over yet.

Those lads who were wounded have to be cared for. That's our job. They have to be rehabilitated. That's our job. They have to be brought home. That's our job.

Our job still costs money and Victory Bonds will pay the bills. But Victory Bonds aren't worth a nickel unless they are purchased. That's our job. To purchase bonds in this final Victory Bond drive. To provide the money that will finish our job. Let's do it quickly and get the boys home.

DON'T FORGET

Says A-Bomb Cannot Harm Submerged Sub

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27.—(INS).—Vice Admiral Charles A. Lockwood, Jr., commander of the United States Navy's undersea fleet in the Pacific during the war with Japan, declared today that the atom bomb in its present state of development probably cannot harm a submerged submarine.

"I have asked the Navy Department to make tests of this contention," the admiral said, "and hope that such tests will be made in the near future."

He asserted during a news conference aboard the U. S. submarine Mero cruising in Lake Erie that all ships and fortifications of the future would be built with the new weapon in mind.

Men's Club Hears Joseph Solomon

Attorney Joseph Solomon was the speaker Friday evening, during the late Friday evening services of the Tenth Men's club, held at Tenth Street synagogue, at 8 o'clock.

Attorney Solomon spoke on the subject of "Universal Conscription During Peace Time." The question is a very debatable one, but he felt that a creation of a large army during peace time will give the military leadership a tendency to be one-sided, and thus to interfere in the civil liberties of citizens. His talk was well received.

A large attendance was noted, and following refreshments were served to the group.

Gus Slovinsky, chairman of the event, introduced the speaker.

Next regular meeting of the Men's club will be on Tuesday, November 6.

Report Girl Admits Slaying Aged Man

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(INS).—The importance of unrelaxed vigilance against postwar juvenile delinquency was pointed up today by the "thrill" hatchet-slaying of a 71-year-old New York tailor by a pretty, 16-year-old bobby soxer.

Chief City Magistrate Edward Bromberger was informed of the ready confession of movie usurbette and grade school truant Lena Theresa Neinstadt that she bludgeoned John Wagner to death in his small tailor shop.
